DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The amendment filed January 3, 2006 is objected to under 35 U.S.C. 132(a) because it introduces new matter into the disclosure. 35 U.S.C. 132(a) states that no amendment shall introduce new matter into the disclosure of the invention. The added material which is not supported by the original disclosure is as follows: "at most slightly wider" in claim 6.

Applicant is required to cancel the new matter in the reply to this Office Action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The phrase "slightly wider" is not described in the specification as originally filed.

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Art Unit: 2891

5. The term "slightly wider" in claim 6 is a relative term which renders the claim indefinite. The term "slightly wider" is not defined by the claim, the specification does not provide a standard for ascertaining the requisite degree, and one of ordinary skill in the art would not be reasonably apprised of the scope of the invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

7. Claims 1, 2, 5, and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Yamaji et al.

Yamaji et al. (US 6,159,837) discloses a conductive bump comprising a first metal layer 4, a conductive paste body 7 formed on the first metal layer, and a second metal layer 8 formed on the paste body such that the paste body is sandwiched between the first and second metal layers.

Regarding claim 2, Yamaji et al. further discloses a first metal layer has a base portion which is bonded to a bonding pad 2 and a peripheral portion extending from the base portion in a transverse direction relative to the base portion and a recess between the base portion and the peripheral portion to confine a recess filled with the paste body [Figure 3].

Regarding claim 5, Yamaji et al. further discloses a conductive paste of a thermosetting resin and conductive filler [column 9, lines 40-45].

Art Unit: 2891

Regarding claim 6, Yamaji et al. discloses a conductive bump comprising a first metal layer 4a where the first metal layer is slightly wider than the bonding pad 2 [Figure 3], a conductive paste body 7 formed on the first metal layer, and a second metal layer 8 formed on the paste body such that the paste body is sandwiched between the first and second metal layers.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments filed January 3, 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

In response to applicant's argument that the reference fails to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., the resulting thinness of the conductive bump) are not recited in the rejected claims. Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

In response to applicant's arguments that the reference fails to show the smaller size of the first metal layer, these arguments are moot in the light of the new grounds of rejection.

In response to applicant's arguments that the reference fails to show a recess confining the paste body, it is clear in Figure 3 the recess indicated in the figure confines the paste body within the first metal layer.

Conclusion

9. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
